

THE UFO PANYARD IS A MAGIC PLACE WHEN...

- We respect the music and each other.
- We share responsibility for looking after the instruments, and take great care when moving them.
- We arrive early and set up before class starts.
- We are respectful by giving plenty of advanced notice if we are not able to attend class.
- We share in the WhatsApp group if we are running late or if we can't make it last minute.
- We feel assured that the hall and tuition are secured by our subs payments, which are paid on time, in advance, even for classes missed without prior agreement.
- We are quiet and listen during lessons, even if our section is not playing.
- We only use mobile phones in class to record the music.
- Teamwork thrives and everyone helps each other, especially with moving heavier pans.
- We leave lessons only when the hall is cleared of all pans, not just our own.
- Everyone takes it in turns to clean the kitchen, and to help on panyard clear-up days.
- Cakes, biscuits, coffee, milk, teabags are occasionally contributed and enjoyed by all.
- There is no aggression, bullying, racism, sexism or name-calling.
- We share any worries/concerns with the group or with the management as soon as possible so we can work together to resolve these.
- We read, understand and respect our user agreement, and we are familiar with all the band's policies (found on our website www.ufosteelband.com)
- We attend and play as many gigs as possible and attend and help pack/unpack the van.
